1. Installation

1.1 You may install the fonts on up to three stations on a single host computer. The basic license is for 456 stations. The licensed stations need not be at the same business location.

1.2 Apart from the three stations licensed, you may also install the fonts on a network server. The number of stations licensed means each and every station where the fonts will be used, not just the stations on a network that might possibly be used at any one time.

1.3 For each network station for which you are licensed, you may also install the fonts on a portable tablet and/or a host computer. However, the fonts are not used on the secondary host's computer at the same time. At no time may you not install the fonts on the host computers of other family members.
